Legal Action Ordered

Authorization was voted by the Fownship Committee Monday night for the employment of the firm of McDonald and Lebett, New York attorneys, to institute suit against the firm of B. J. Van Ingen in an effort to recover approximately $25,000.

The money was allegedly paid il-legally to the firm by the last ad-ministration, for refinancing a large bloc of Township bonds. The action will be based on a State haw which prohibits the payment of fees in con-nection with the marketing of muniipal securities. Approximately 300 members of an rganization composed of unemployd jammed the committee auditorium and the corridors. They presented a petition citing their demands and a delegation from the group will meet with the officials to discuss the matters.

Permission was given the Port Reading Fire Company to hold a carnival during the week of June 25, and authority also was given the Avenel Library Association to use Avenel Park for games on July 4. An application by the Knights of Coumbus to conduct a carnival from July 26 to July 28 also was allowed. Appointments as constables were given John Avemaria and Fred Arner. Louis Kirsch and Charles H. Kuhlman were appointed to the ad-justment board.

Gentlemen:

Enclose please find my copy for your issue of this week. It is to occupy a space of 3 columns by 5 inches.

I would like to take this opportunity to acquaint you with the remarkable results I obtained through my ad of last week. The returns were most encouraging and I believe it no more than fair that I pass this information on to you.

Let me at the same time congratulate you on the fine newspaper you are publishing in Woodbridge. Editorially, and as an advertising medium, I hold it to be among the best in the state.

With best wishes for your continued success,
